

OMAR KAYKHUSRAW

CONTACT

 Elmfield Building, S10 2TU, UK

 omar.kaykhusraw@gmail.com

 www.kaykhusraw.github.io

EDUCATION

PhD, Economics
King's College London

2019 - 2024

Thesis title: Essays in Empirical Macroeconomics

Advisors: Georgios Chortareas
and George Kapetanios

Result: Pass with no corrections

+ Advanced Tools for Macroeconomists
+ Monetary Economics and Int. Finance
University of Oxford

TEACHING

ECON6520 Macroeconomic Analysis,
Lecturer, The University of Sheffield

2026 - Present

ECON5213, ECON5214, ECON6214,
Assistant Professor, Northeastern

2021 - 2026

AWARDS

Ede and Ravenscroft Prize, Thesis Prize,
Faculty Prize. Scholarships: $\Sigma \approx \pounds 25,000$.

LANGUAGES

English (Native), Bengali (Intermediate)
French (Elementary), Urdu (Elementary)

PROFILE

Lecturer in Economics with research interests in empirical macroeconomics. Current research focuses on monetary policy and the neutral rate. Teaching experience in macroeconomics and time series econometrics. Programming primarily in R and occ. Python. Open to collaboration.

Fields: Macroeconomics, Monetary Economics, Macroeconometrics, Time Series Analysis

EMPLOYMENT

Lecturer, University of Sheffield

School of Economics, Sheffield 2026-Present

Assistant Professor, Northeastern University

Department of Economics, London and Boston 2021-2026

Teaching Fellow, Queen Mary University of London

School of Business and Management, London 2025-2026

Research Fellow, King's College London

Data Analytics for Finance and Macro Centre, London 2023-2026

RESEARCH

Equilibrium Real Interest Rates and Monetary Policy (Mis)perceptions
With Chortareas, G. and Kapetanios, G. R&R: Journal of Money, Credit and Banking.

Longer-run Equilibrium Interest Rates: Evidence from the United Kingdom
Kaykhusraw, O. (2024) Economica, 93(366): 457-482. Click for ungated version.

The Market-Perceived Natural Rate of Interest
With Chortareas, G. and Siklos, P. Click for latest draft.

SKILLS

Programming: R, Python, Matlab, Stata, Excel, LaTeX
Recreation: Elo 2000, Caius Chess Club, Cambridge

REFERENCES

Dr. Georgios Chortareas King's College London	Dr. George Kapetanios King's College London	Dr. Monojit Chatterji University of Cambridge
--	--	--